SAVE THE RHYTHM OF ANOTHER
WELCOME FROM THE CHAIRS

WELCOME FROM THE HONORARY CHAIRS
CINDY AND MAHER MASO
Tonight is more than just a social gathering. We are uniting together to raise funds for vital lifesaving research and public and professional education programs designed to help build lives free from cardiovascular diseases and stroke. We are honored to be the honorary chairs for such an important organization. We want to help the American Heart Association reach their primary goal of improving the cardiovascular health of all Americans by 20 percent, and to reduce deaths from cardiovascular disease and stroke by 20 percent, by the year 2020. We look forward to a night of fun as we follow the beat of our hearts to help save the rhythm of another!

LESLIE AND JOHN KEATING
We are privileged to be serving as the chairs for an event committed to improving the health of our families and communities. Just think of how many lives might be saved if one more person learns CPR. It’s just one of the many ways the American Heart Association is making a positive impact in our community. Thanks to the American Heart Association, our residents have the information and the resources needed to promote healthier lifestyles.

The day started out like any other Saturday. Aerin Thomas and her mother, Angela, went to the grocery store to pick up several items for the week. As they were checking out, Angela received a call from her husband, Joe. Aerin couldn’t hear what Joe was saying at the other end, but she knew it wasn’t good. She heard her mother say, “Do you need to call an ambulance?” The two raced home. When they arrived, Aerin’s dad didn’t look too well but seemed like he was feeling better. As Aerin went to put away the groceries, she heard a gasp and saw that her dad had collapsed onto the bed.

Aerin’s mom immediately called 911 and tossed the phone to Aerin to give the dispatcher their address and information. After speaking with the dispatcher, Aerin jumped into action and began performing hands-only CPR, which she had learned just a couple of months earlier at Cobb Middle School. “I didn’t think I would ever need to actually use CPR, but I paid attention in PE and listened to what they told us to do. We watched online simulations and practiced with a dummy. I didn’t stop CPR until the paramedics came.”

Joe was rushed to the hospital within 15 minutes of Angela placing the 911 call. Upon arrival he was found to have 100% blockage in one artery and 40% blockage in the other. In the ICU, Joe was placed in a medically induced coma and given hypothermia therapy to slow the brain and heart down, reduce the risk of brain damage and allow the heart time to heal.

After three days in a coma, Joe was woken up and miraculously had no brain damage or any other long-term physical effects. In the ICU for 3 days and in the hospital for a total of 8 days, doctors credit the rapid response from the emergency services and the use of correct protocols for his quick and full recovery — that and Aerin’s immediate use of CPR.

Joe owes his life to his daughter. “I am so proud of Aerin for just jumping in and doing what needed to be done. That is quite astounding, for a 12 year-old to have the confidence and mental fortitude to remain calm in a very stressful situation.”

Born and raised in Texas from German decent his parents quickly learned how to fuse traditional German cuisine with traditional Texas cuisine. Marcus’s love for cooking began at a very early age. Over the years, has worked in restaurants both front and back of the house while attending culinary school. He found his home at the iconic Adolphus Hotel, where he spent a greater portion of his culinary career working for and alongside many culinary greats. As a mentor to many students, he encourages the future chefs to blend the knowledge of food and wine. Serving as the Executive Chef for The Adolphus he has had the pleasure of preparing meals for many political officials, dignitaries and executives. Now as Corporate Executive Chef for Crescent Hotel Group, he has the opportunity to work with a diverse group all over the country. Not only has this been a very rewarding time, it has allowed him to develop and compile a database of regional cuisines. Marcus finds great satisfaction in being a part of creating, recreating menus and mentoring culinary talent with fresh approach to food.
COLLIN COUNTY HEART BALL CHEF

FABIO MASSIMO BONINI

We produce Traditional Balsamic Vinegar of Modena P.D.O. and Condiment.

This may seem simple, but these few words cannot fully convey the Balsamic experience. So much more is held within those letters: a wealth of wisdom, ancient crafts, unique flavors...with just one ingredient: grape must.

In our dark and silent ageing room, durmast oak, acacia, cherry, juniper and chestnut barrels imbue our balsamic with their precious aromas with the slow passing of time.

Year by year, through Modena’s sweltering summers and the cold winters, our balsamic ripens following the tradition we inherited centuries ago, developing the savor and bouquet that make it unparalleled worldwide.

COLLIN COUNTY HEART BALL CHEF

LEON COLBERT

Leon has been at Medical Center of McKinney a little over 7 years. Having made his start in country clubs, this is Leon’s first hospital. After working at Southern Hills Country Club for 16 years, where he learned everything from fine dining and banquet to off-site catering, he obtained his ACF Chef Certification. He and his family decided to relocate to Texas so that he could grow more in the culinary field, learning the beauty of food. Leon says, “I love making people smile with food.”

COLLIN COUNTY HEART BALL CHEF

VIKRAMJIT KATOCH

Executive Chef Vikramjit Katoch brings over 27 years of culinary experience and an innovative yet traditional cooking style. Chef Vikramjit was born and raised in India and learned at a young age how to use the local ingredients that surround him, a skill that he has developed and mastered over his long career. He discovered his love for cooking after learning how to make Roti, a traditional Indian flatbread, from his mother, inspiring him to follow his passion for the craft. Chef Katoch acquired a certified culinary diploma from the Institute of Hotel Management Catering Technology and Applied Nutrition in Hyderabad, India.

Katoch trained under Chef Marcel Drissen at the Hotel InterContinental Miami and then moved on to become chef de cuisine at Hollywood Prime, sous chef of San Diego’s The US Grant, executive chef at the W San Diego, executive sous chef at the Hilton Bay Front San Diego and led the culinary team at the Waldorf Astoria Orlando to three Food and Beverage Excellence awards within the Hilton chain. He most recently was at the Hilton Saratoga and decided to move to Texas and bring all his passion and knowledge about the Indian cuisine and culture. We are honored to have him here with The Hilton Dallas/Plano Granite Park.
Jacques Laventure, known as the Naked Chef and a celebrity fitness trainer and life coach, with a life mission to help others get physically and mentally healthy. The author of the cookbooks "14 Minute Snacks" and "Sexy Vegan Snacks", Jacques shares his love for food by helping others learn to live healthy showing them how to incorporate foods into everyday life that heals the body, open the chakras and encourage positive vibrations that will change your life.

Through tasty foods and simple lifestyle changes, anyone can create a life of abundance and a strong mentally fit attitude that will allow you to live life to the fullest. He is also the creator of the P.E.E.R. Program, an international program helping our youth reach their goals through finding a love for fitness.

With the recent launch of the JOQ Wellness Center in Downtown Dallas, he continues to promote his love for food, fitness, and faith. As a philanthropist, vegan chef, book writer, and life coach, Jacques aspires to empower others through education and awareness.

Ben Maulsby is the executive chef at Dallas’s largest, top-performing patio bar and lounge, Happiest Hour in the HARWOOD District. Maulsby leads the high-volume kitchen with an emphasis on quality locally sourced ingredients to deliver delicious flavor with a kick in every dish. He also portrays his creative culinary technique in dishes on both the regular menu and the newly introduced #ButFirstBrunch menu. These include the light Chicken Lettuce Wraps, the Croque Monsieur Sandwich with jalapeño mornay, and the decadent Sugar Rush Hot Cakes with hazelnut chocolate pebbles and blueberry compote.

Maulsby started his career as a cook at the Hilton Anatole’s famous Nana restaurant as a cook under legendary Chef Anthony Bombaci. When Nana’s chapter closed in 2012, Maulsby worked as sous chef to chef Anthony van Camp at the Hilton’s SÉR Steak+Spirits. He continued to perfect his craft alongside van Camp for 3 years before being promoted to executive sous chef of the Hilton Lincoln Centre Dallas.
Erin Salamon is the Executive Chef at The Medical Center of Plano. Salamon previously served as Executive Sous Chef at Northwood Club leaving to bring her culinary creativity to MCP.

Salamon has traveled throughout the U.S., working for multiple communities of Discovery Land Co., high-end private golf club properties. After working for Discovery Land Co., Salamon was the Executive Chef for Limited Brands in Columbus, Ohio for 2 years. She was offered the Executive Sous Chef position at Northwood Club in Dallas in 2013.

“I hope to provide a unique style and create dishes that have a healthy, flavorful twist,” said Erin Salamon, Executive Chef. “Through all my training, I have learned how to make food that is robust, full of flavor and style but also preserve the natural integrity.”

Salamon attended Scottsdale Culinary Institute in Arizona in 2001. Currently, Salamon is working to complete her Bachelor’s in Health and Wellness, with the focus on Nutrition. She will graduate next May with Honors. Salamon’s goal is to continue her education and pursue a Master’s degree in Nutrition to continue serving the patients who receive care at MCP.

Gianni Santin trained at the L’Ecole Le Notre in Paris, Zurich, and Toronto. With over 30 years of experience, his culinary travels have taken him to Bali, Saudi Arabia, Jakarta, Bangkok, Singapore, Dallas, and Las Vegas. Prior to moving to Las Vegas as Mandarin Oriental Hotel's Executive Pastry Chef, Chef Santin was the Executive Pastry Chef at Rosewood's Crescent Court where he was awarded Pastry Chef of the Year in 2006 by the Texas Chefs Association and Hotel Chef of the Year in 2007 by the Hotel Association. Chef Santin is excited to bring his unique vision to Dallas, which he has always called home.

We treat the HEARTS of Texas

Chicken Fried Steak. Home fries. Fried okra. Mmm. While living in Dallas can be delicious, there can be an occasional downside. That’s why we’re here, treating the hearts of Texas the way we’d treat family, now and whenever you need us.

Heart disease is the no. 1 killer of women

These facts only begin to scratch the surface. The American Heart Association’s Go Red For Women movement advocates for more research and swifter action for women’s heart health for this very reason.
